Day 1	Arslanbob village to Chakmaktash Pass, 6-7 hours After breakfast we ride out through Arslanbob village, passing traditional houses built out of clay, each with its own blooming garden full of apples, apricot, and walnut. The houses are surrounded by fences fashioned from dry tree branches. Just beyond the village we will find our path surrounded by wild apple and cherry trees and walnut orchards. We leave behind the Arslanbob valley and ride towards Chakmak Tash pass across Chaar Archa gorge with its dense juniper forest. Lunch along the stream near the shepherd's tent. Here the trail goes steep up and it will take around 4 hrs to reach the pass. On top of the pass, the views of rolling hills and the surrounding gorges filled with sheep and cattle open up. We set our tents little down the pass. Enjoy what we came for.
